

Ionian Islands 2009

Cookielicious summer 2009

Cookielicious can take you on a magical journey through the Ionian Islands, starting in Cephalonia & finishing in Corfu. This itinerary packs in a fantastic mixture of history, beaches, lively towns & quiet secluded anchorages. Olive groves & vineyards and some of the finest beaches in Greece make the stops along the way all the more beautiful. With some medium sailing distances involved in this itinerary we will be sure to satisfy the sailors & sun worshippers onboard.

Day one: Argostoli in Cephalonia has a main international airport where you will arrive before heading into the town and meeting Cookielicious, ready and awaiting your arrival. Depending on arrival times we will either remain in the beautiful town with its lovely atmosphere and good tavernas to explore or head north to an overnight anchorage.

Day Two: Today Cookielicious will head north to the Island of Ithaca. En route there will be time for a lunch anchorage, some water sports fun and a swim, before we reach Port Vathi for sunset. Where we shall drop anchor off the town that boasts the most idyllic setting in the whole of the Ionian. Ashore three of the main odyssey sights are within walking distance, making a wonderful late afternoon activity.

Day Three: Making our way north through the satellite islands of Levkas we will find a quiet & secluded spot. Meganisi will be our destination, with many natural harbors & enclosed bays fringed by cypress & olive trees it will be sure to be a fantastic afternoon of water sports in the sparkling water before the sun sets.

Day Four: Today sailing time is up to you, we are headed a short distance north to the peaceful setting of Tranquil Bay on Levkas. Here we will be able to do as much or as little as you want, it's really your relaxing day. We will be able to use the extensive array of water sports onboard, Tim can tender you over to the lively town of Nidri or you can simply relax in the sunshine.

Day Five: Sailing time today will be longer with our destination on mainland Greece. We will pass through Levkas Canal which should prove interesting before our 20NM sail north to Preveza. Preveza is situated on the edge of a gulf famous for its fish, dolphins & castles and tonight we shall be moored in a marina giving you easy access ashore to make use of the bikes onboard or to stretch your legs.

Day Six: Corfu is our destination today, approximately 40 miles north. Cookielicious can be underway for breakfast making sure we get a good afternoon of water sports and swimming in one of the many anchorages on Corfu or its satellite island of Paxos. Depending on flight times we will find a suitable anchorage on the island of Corfu or head to the Marina of Gouvia.

Day Seven: After breakfast guests will have time onboard before there 15 min transfer to Corfu international Airport.

Please note that all anchoring locations & itineraries are subject to change due to weather and wind conditions. Extended itineraries are available and specific location requests can be fulfilled if at all possible.
